

TÉCNICO DE LABORATORIO PARA I+D

This job role is for the design and formulation of offset inks. The applicant will be expected to work with colleagues in technical, operational and commercial functions to develop formulation specifications and product designs that meet customer and business needs. He/she will ensure R&D studies defined in the R&D project portfolio and manage application studies.

RESPONSIBILITIES

Management of technical studies defined in the R&D plan or coming from application

- Ensure realisation of studies in term of deadline, quality and cost
- Double-check lab studies results
- Implement the experimental pathway function of the technical topics
- Participate to the program of raw material alternatives and cost reduction
- Realize regular benchmark of competitive inks
- Participate to a proper technology watch: market trends, innovation, competition, suppliers, regulations, patents

COORDINATION AND INTERFACE ROLE

- Technical support to SCM: quality control, new QC test, industrialisation, procurement issues
- Participate in the industrialisation of new products
- Generate savings ideas and create saving sheets
- Technical support to purchasing in case of raw material claims

LABORATORY MANAGEMENT (ORGANISATION, SAFETY, 5S, EQUIPMENT)

- Apply safety rules as defined by the safety manager
- Ensure cleanness and tidiness of the laboratory
- Ensure application of quality procedures within the laboratory
- Guarantee proper traceability of results
- Manage/archive ink samples related to the studies and from competition
- Reporting to the R&D Offset Conventional Manager

PERSONALITY

- Dynamic, open minded, curious, communication skills, leadership
- Structured approach, rigorous, and autonomous
- Ability to work in cross-functional teams

BACKGROUND AND SKILLS

- Chemical Engineer/ Chemist
- At least 3 years of experience at managing technology development projects, formulations a plus
- R&D experience in ink (preferably), paint or coating chemistry
- IT skills, good knowledge of Microsoft Office (Word, Excel, PowerPoint), SAP a plus.